To: Vallejo General Plan Working Group Members
Subject: Discussion of Preliminary Draft Goals, Policies and Actions
Date: November 4, 2015

Dear General Plan Working Group Members:

Attached to this memo, please find the following materials for review ahead of the November 9 General Plan Working Group (GPWG) meeting:

- » Attachment A: Propel Vallejo Guiding Principles
- » Attachment B: Matrix of preliminary draft goals, policies, and actions

Please review these materials carefully in advance of the meeting, paying particular attention to the matrix. The purpose of this meeting and the subsequent meeting on December 14 is to review the preliminary draft goals, policies, and actions and receive GPWG comments on additional concepts to incorporate into the policy framework for the Vallejo General Plan Update. Following these two meetings, a full set of draft goals, policies, and actions that incorporates GPWG feedback will be brought back for review at two subsequent meetings of the GPWG in 2016 in order to refine them further as you review the Draft General Plan. A revised Draft General Plan that addresses your comments will be presented to City Council for adoption later next year.

This memo outlines the process for developing goals, policies, and actions, describes the proposed structure of the Vallejo General Plan, and introduces the preliminary draft goals, policies and actions that will be the focus of GPWG discussion. Additionally, the memo explains what to expect at the November 9 meeting and how to prepare for the discussion.

BACKGROUND AND PROCESS

A general plan lays out a vision for the future of the community with two principal components: a map of land use designations (from which a zoning map will follow) and a set a goals, policies, and actions to guide physical development. For the Vallejo General Plan Update, these components are being developed in parallel through an iterative process that involves community input; review and comment by the GPWG, EVC, and Planning Commission; and ultimately review and approval by City Council.

The basis for the Vallejo General Plan land use map will be the “preferred” scenario, now being developed. Staff and the consultant team are processing community input gathered in September and October, including input from the community workshops, the online activity, other outreach events, and written submittals, in order to create a draft preferred scenario. That draft will be reviewed with the GPWG on November 23 to get your comments before it is presented to City Council in December. Once approved by City Council, staff and the consultants will translate the preferred scenario into a draft land use map for review and comment in summer 2016.

Goals, policies, and actions for the General Plan are being developed in parallel with the preferred scenario and the land use map. Many of the policies and actions are dependent on the preferred scenario because they will support and implement the community's vision for future land use in Vallejo; however, there are many other policies and actions needed to support and promote the overarching vision for the kind of community Vallejoans want in the future that we can start to develop even before the preferred scenario is approved by City Council. It's these overarching policies and actions that we would like to focus on with you over the course of two meetings in November and December. Together with your input on the preferred scenario, your comments on these non-map-dependent policies and actions will be critical to creating a first draft of the General Plan Update.

STRUCTURE OF THE GENERAL PLAN

California law requires that a general plan cover the following topic areas: land use, circulation, housing, conservation, open space, noise, and safety. Additionally, communities can choose to address other topic areas of local importance, such as economic development or community health. These topic areas can be addressed in any order or be combined to reflect the interests and priorities of the community.

The Guiding Principles established in 2014 identified four broad categories of importance to the community: Community & People; Nature & Built Environment; Economy, Education & Training; and Mobility, Transportation & Connectivity. Taking a cue from these key themes of the Guiding Principles, we can use these four categories to structure the Vallejo General Plan and organize it according to the priorities of Vallejoans. Each of the four categories will become a chapter in the Vallejo General Plan, and collectively the four chapters will address the seven required topic areas, as well as economic development and community health.

Each chapter will consist of a series of goals, policies, and actions needed to help guide the community toward realization of the General Plan vision. This policy framework will be introduced with narratives and supported with graphics and photos to illustrate key points. The goals describe general desired results that the community seeks to create through the implementation of the General Plan. The policies and actions establish the "who," "how" and "when" for carrying out the "what" and "where" of goals. Policies lead to specific actions that support goals:

A policy is a specific statement that regulates activities in the City, guides decision-making and directs implementing actions to achieve a goal. General Plan policies guide City staff and the Planning Commission in their review of land development projects and in decision-making about City actions.

An action is a measure, procedure, or technique intended to implement one or more policies to help reach a specified goal. An action may be ongoing or something that can be completed. Taken together, the actions in the General Plan constitute a “to-do list” for Vallejo.

The goals, policies and actions are a critical component of the General Plan because, taken together, they describe the steps the City and the community must take to help make the vision of the General Plan a reality.

PRELIMINARY GOALS, POLICIES, AND ACTIONS

The preliminary draft goals for each chapter of the General Plan are presented in the attached matrix. As shown, each chapter will have 4 or 5 goals. Each goal in the matrix has its own tab where associated policies and actions are laid out. The language of the draft goals closely reflects the language of the guiding principles in order to reflect the vision and values of the community in the plan.

To create this preliminary draft matrix, staff and the consultant team drew from the following sources of information:

- » The current Vallejo General plan and specific plans
- » Documentation of existing conditions in Vallejo
- » Recent laws and regulations as applicable
- » Best practices in other communities
- » Community input collected to date at workshops, from Open City Hall activities, via email and app submittals, and other avenues.

Given the amount of material to review, GPWG discussion of preliminary draft goals, policies, and actions is scheduled over two 3-hour meetings:

- November 9 - Review of preliminary draft goals, policies, and actions for the Nature & Built Environment Chapter and the Mobility, Transportation & Connectivity Chapter.
- December 14 - Review of preliminary draft goals, policies, and actions for the Community & People Chapter and the Economy, Education & Training Chapter.

Preliminary draft goals, policies, and actions for the Nature & Built Environment Chapter and the Mobility, Transportation & Connectivity Chapter are included in this packet. Preliminary draft goals, policies, and actions for the Community & People Chapter and the Economy, Education & Training Chapter will be provided in the packet for the December 14 meeting.

Nature & Built Environment Chapter

The Nature & Built Environment Chapter covers the following topic areas required by California law: land use, conservation, open space, noise, and safety. Additionally, it covers the following optional topics of importance to Vallejo: historic preservation and arts and culture. Goals NBE-1, NBE-2, and NBE-3 are derived directly from the Guiding Principles, while Goal NBE-4 has been added to satisfy the legal requirements for a general plan and create a place for policies and actions needed to protect life and property from natural and human-made hazards.

As you review this matrix, please consider what you think are the most important policies and actions needed to support the vision of the community expressed in the Guiding Principles.

Mobility, Transportation & Connectivity Chapter

The Mobility, Transportation & Connectivity Chapter covers the State-mandated topic area of circulation, including circulation of people and goods by road, rail, and water. Additionally, it addresses the locally important issues of regional and local connectivity within and between Vallejo's neighborhoods. All four goals in this chapter are derived directly from the Guiding Principles.

As you review this matrix, please consider what you think are the most important policies and actions needed to support the vision of the community expressed in the Guiding Principles.

WHAT TO EXPECT AT THE MEETING

To start the meeting, the consultant team will make a short presentation introducing the structure of the Vallejo General Plan as well as the process for developing General Plan goals, policies, and actions. Following this, the remainder of the meeting will be given over to GPWG discussion of the preliminary draft goals, policies, and actions for the Nature & Built Environment and the Mobility, Transportation & Connectivity Chapters.

The discussion will be structured so as to move through the material goal-by-goal. The consultant team will briefly introduce the first goal and summarize the range of policies and action concepts associated with it. Then GPWG members will be invited to share their ideas about the most important policies and actions needed to support the goal. Given that the policies and actions are still at a preliminary stage of development, comments should focus on overall direction, rather than wordsmithing. A full set of draft goals, policies, and actions that incorporates GPWG consensus feedback will be brought back for review at two subsequent meetings of the GPWG in 2016 in order to refine them as you review the Draft General Plan. A revised Draft General Plan that addresses your comments will be presented to City Council for adoption later next year.

Public comment will be heard after the GPWG has discussed all the preliminary goals, policies, and actions for the Nature & Built Environment and the Mobility, Transportation & Connectivity Chapters, as noted on the agenda.

With a total of eight goals from the Nature & Built Environment and the Mobility, Transportation & Connectivity Chapters plus public comment to cover in approximately two and a half hours, we will have about 15-20 minutes of discussion per goal.
